Semi-Victorian House, but with authentic Victorian colors. Construction is entirely of basswood. Note cupola with widow's walk. I love buildings with cupolas. Once at a train show, a woman queried me about why most of my buildings had these cupolas. I told her it is a man thing. I think my idiotic comment past over her, but she and her husband purchased the building anyway. This structure has lights both inside and outside. Again this design would be timeless.
